

Amdega Orangeries

Amdega is proud to be the oldest company in manufacturing orangeries, bespoke conservatories and more since 1874. Our craftsmanship and quality of work is legendary amongst the industry and you can be assured of top quality service provided by us. With Amdega orangeries you have the choice of a multitude of options. Our skilled joiners have been with us for many years and they will assemble your orangery in our workshop using top grade timber from the best sources worldwide. We offer a range of colors to suit any additional materials used such as brick or stucco. Orangeries can be built as an extension of your house or alternatively freestanding in your back yard.

Imagine indulging in a sizzling barbeque in your newly decorated orangery whilst the gentle flow of wind provides you with a refreshing sense of relaxation on a hot summer night. Merge the indoors with the outdoors by constructing a sunny orangery filled with plants and comfy chairs. Or use your imagination to design a custom built orangery to hold all your beloved herbs and vegetables. They will be protected from the harsh weather whilst getting plenty of sun in winter. Whatever style of orangery you are after, we can confidently deliver.
